

SPLENDID TYPE OF MANHOOD NEEDED

Plea for Eugenic Marriages and a Realization That God is More Than Gold, Made at Congregational Meeting.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31.—A plea for eugenic marriages by Gov. Simon E. Baldwin of Connecticut, and an address by Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis of Brooklyn, N. Y., on the social obligations for the church, brought to an end Thursday night the fifteenth triennial council of the Congregational churches in the United States.

In addition to being the largest in point of attendance, the council was one of the most important in the church's history. It adopted a new constitution, appointed a general secretary with enlarged advisory powers, brought the eight church societies directly under the guidance of the council and provided for biennial meetings.

Gov. Baldwin urged the passage of laws by state legislatures that will enable ministers of religion to determine whether or not parties to the marriage contract are fit before the ministers perform the ceremony.

Dr. Hillis said: "The greatest need of this hour in American society is the need of ministers and parents who will teach this generation that God is more than gold, that wealth is an obligation to poverty; and that from those who have received much, much will be required."

"There is not one industrial problem that would not be solved by the reappearance of the puritan type in our great railways, banks and mines."

"If the republic is to prosper, once again we must produce that splendid type of manhood that can hold our people back from the trampled cornfields and from bloody streets and fill the land not only with prosperity, but with peace."

Most of Thursday's session was devoted to the passage of resolutions and the election of members of the various important commissions.

"GOAT'S" SHARE IN DEBT IS SHRINKING

Reverses Decision.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 31.—The national baseball commission reversed in part a decision of the national board, when it reduced from $1,050 to $793.44 the amount Player-Manager E. J. ("Goat") Anderson of the Wheeling (W. Va.) club, was directed to pay B. F. Perkins as his share of a note made out to the credit of Anderson and E. V. Robinson, owners of the Wheeling club in 1913. The ruling was based on the evidence showing that former Pres. Carson of the Central league had retained $532.12 from the Wheeling club pending an adjustment of the affairs of that club, and Anderson was given credit by the commission for half of

Two other women were killed in the accident that caused Mrs. Brace's death.

BILLIE BURKE UNFOLDS THE NEWEST STYLES IN SALUTATIONS FOR THOSE READERS WHO WISH TO ACQUIRE "GOOD MANNERS".

BY BILLIE BURKE.

A very clever young woman said to me the other day when I asked her why she was not going to marry a man who not only seemed able to give her everything she wanted, but eligible in every other way:

"Well, he simply harps on the words lady and gentleman. I am sure he speaks of me as his lady friend and talks of the gentlemanly behavior in the same breath."

This young man's morals were above reproach, but his manners of action and speech "grated" on this girl, whose taste had been educated to the best. She had learned that there was fashion in manner, and today we like the splendid Saxon word woman and speak of it where our grandfathers said lady.

A few years ago a man invariably offered his arm to a lady when he accompanied her on the street after dark, and many young men and women proclaimed their engagements by walking arm in arm in the daytime.

Nowadays a woman seldom takes a man's arm unless there is special reason that she should rely on him for protection.

Even when going out to dinner, unless it is a very formal party, the guests do not walk arm in arm.

In a ballroom it is also bad form to hold to a man's arm after you have finished dancing, and usually on entering a room the girl precedes her escort by a step or two to be greeted by her hostess.

A young woman must never make a movement toward taking a man's arm until it is offered, and she must remember that, unless it is absolutely necessary, "arming" as it is called in England, has gone out of fashion.

WILL MAKE EFFORT TO END CALUMET STRIKE

Men Will be Taken Back and Given Eight Hour Day if They Desert Union.

CALUMET, Mich., Oct. 31.—What is announced as the final effort of the copper mine operators in this district to induce their striking employees to return to work will be made Friday through the medium of the copper industry commercial club.

A statement from the mining companies will be published by the club in the local press to the effect that strikers who apply for their old positions will be re-employed, regardless of nationality, provided they give up their memberships in the Western Federation of Miners, and have not been participants in any violence during the strike.

The concession of an eight hour day, to be put into effect in January has already been granted by the operators. If the strikers remain loyal to the Western Federation of Miners the importation of men will continue and the working forces brought up to normal as rapidly as possible.

ARREST RUNAWAY GIRL

Harvey, Ill. Miss Wanted to Go Into Business in New York.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 31.—Held as a runaway from home, 19-year-old Edna Hanson of Harvey, Ill., had her dreams of conducting a millinery business in New York city shattered here Thursday, when she was arrested in the Caswell hotel, where she had spent Wednesday night, and taken to police headquarters, where she is now being detained until her father arrives to take her home. She was taken at the request of the Chicago police.

O'BRIEN TO ACT.

Pitcher Buck O'Brien, now with the Oakland Pacific Coast league club, who got his foothold experience as a member of the Boston Red Sox quartet, plans to go into vaudeville and do a single act this winter. He has a sketch fixed up that he thinks will make a hit.

A gentleman raises his hat when meeting or taking leave of a woman; when he passes her on a public staircase; when he shows her any trifling courtesy, and he should always raise his hat when acknowledging her thanks.

A man always raises his hat upon bowing to an acquaintance who has a lady with him, and he should raise his hat if the lady with him recognizes a friend.

A bow should always be returned. To give the cut direct is a discourtesy of which no person of breeding can be guilty. This salutation need not be effusive, however.

When a man addresses a woman out-of-doors he takes his hat entirely off and remains uncovered until the salutations are passed.

Any little deference of youth to age is always a mark of good breeding. A man never offers his hand first to a lady, but he should be quick to respond if hers is outstretched.

When greeting mothers and daughters one should be particular to greet the mother first. Also, one should ignore all others until she has greeted her hostess.

Nothing is worse taste than two women kissing each other in public. It has been held up to derision by the jokers for ages.

Men in public elevators are not supposed to take off their hats, but in places like the halls and elevators of hotels their hats should always be held in their hands.

A well-mannered girl never acts in such a way that she calls the attention of strangers to herself. She neither laughs nor talks loudly and, above all else, she never allows any stranger to think she is unduly interested in him.

SOUNDS WARNINGS TO BUSINESS INTERESTS

James J. Hill Says Country is Water-Logged With Bonds. Bankers' Meeting at Chicago at an End.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—James J. Hill and Frank A. Vanderlip, were speakers Thursday night at the banquet that closed the convention of the Investment Bankers association of America. Each sounded a note of warning to the business interests of the country.

Mr. Hill, whose subject was, "Railroad financing of the future," declared "that the country is water-logged with bonds. Confidence cannot be restored," he said, "until the name bond has won back something of its old standard."

Mr. Vanderlip said that congress was in danger of saddling on the country a ruinous policy of fiat money. The senate, he said, was hesitating and fearful of doing anything against the wishes of the house.

Mr. Vanderlip speaking of the pending banking legislation said:

"The fatal defect of the Glass bill is that it starts the country on an issue of fiat currency. The notes proposed are fiat notes. They have no reserve, whatever, provided by the government, and they are to be lent without limit to a number of banks. There is no case in all history where a nation has started on an issue of fiat money that the result has not been a complete breakdown of the financial system of that country."

Mr. Vanderlip urged, instead of regional banks, a single central bank owned by the people and under government control. Regional banks were dangerous, as the same climate and crop stresses would affect the entire region, bringing too heavy a strain on the resources of the bank. Competition for resources among regional banks and forced investment by National banks in regional bank securities were also fatal objections. The central bank met every requirement.

TROOPS KEPT READY TO MOVE ON NOTICE

Further Outbreaks Expected in Trinidad Mine Regions—No Trouble During the Day.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 31.—Apprehension of outbreaks between striking miners and mine guards, accentuated by an attack upon the strikers colony at Aguilar Thursday morning caused Adjutant Gen. Chase in command of the Colorado National guard to camp here, to hold the entire command in the military camp Thursday. Frequent trips of investigation were made by troops and a squad of cavalry was ordered from Walsenburg to Aguilar, where an outbreak appeared probable. Strikers in the colony there demanded the protection of the state troops after having being deprived of many guns by the infantry company.

The detachment of artillery Thursday was got in readiness for instant removal to any part of the strike zone and took a drill toward Ludlow the most active strikers camp in the district.

Late Thursday information was received at the Delagua camp that it would be assaulted before morning. The mine guards deserted the camp, leaving only a few non-union miners to defend it.
